We will be looking at a number of models and strategies that are being used today to effectively plant new churches (some are quite unique and may even challenge our understanding of church in a healthy way). The hope is to get people to realize that there is a model and a strategy that can allow virtually all churches to reproduce and plant a new church.

A panel of leaders will discuss issues around weddings and funerals.
Facilitated by Abe Funk

The discussion will include current cultural issues, trends and current practices, what the Bible teaches about weddings and funerals, best practices and best resources.
This workshop is for anyone involved in performing and ministering in the area
